About Abilene Advisors SA

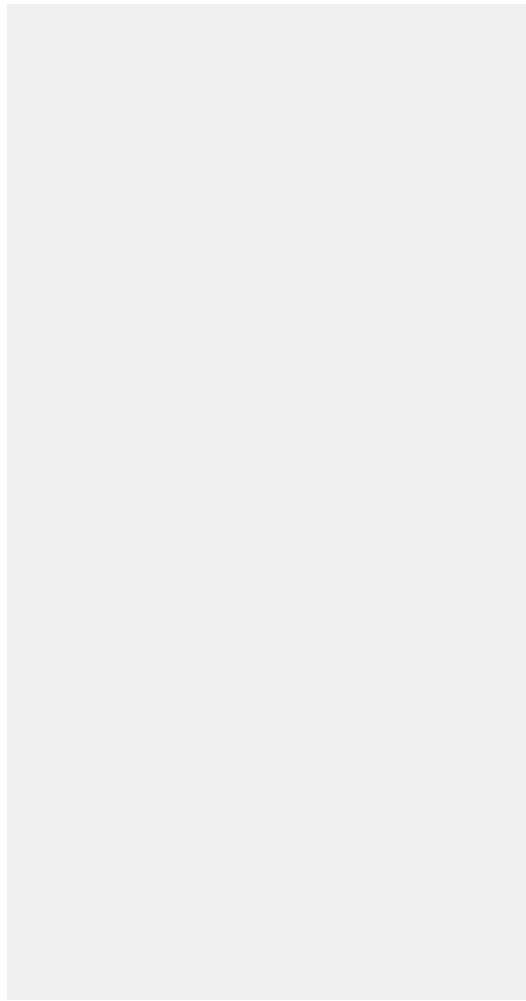

Abilene Advisors is an advisory firm that provides advisory services for the assessments, audits, implementations, and maintenance of information security, business continuity, and data protection frameworks, supported by the best industry practices and international standards.

We are located in Switzerland near Lake Geneva and are internationally active for large corporations, international organizations, and public authorities.

Abilene Academy is the education and training division of Abilene Advisors, providing certification training courses globally and being awarded the Platinum level training partner and Central Europe training partner of the year in 2021 and 2022.

Supplier Shield is a managed service provided by Abilene Advisors that uses a highly intuitive and revolutionary platform to assess the risks, security, and compliance of our customers' suppliers.

Why did you choose to get certified against ISO/IEC 27001?

Abilene Advisors SA has the paramount responsibility of protecting the data of its customers, its employees, and its owners. The ISO/IEC 27001 certification gives reasonable assurance to our stakeholders that we have implemented the best governance and operational measures to protect the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of their informational assets.

For Abilene Advisors, its training division Abilene Academy, and its vendors' risk management platform and services Supplier Shield, the ISO/IEC 27001 certification is an important step to improve our information security.

It will help us protect our data from cyberattacks and data breaches, help us maintain our reputation, and demonstrate to our clients, with whom we assist with their certifications, that we are the best advisory firm for their needs.

Benefits of obtaining certification against ISO/IEC 27001

ISO/IEC 27001 certification demonstrates to our customers and prospects that we have implemented the best practices for protecting their data and that we are a trusted partner for ISO/IEC 27001 compliance and certification strategies.

It aligns with our internal policy of excellence and strict compliance with applicable laws and regulations.

But, on top of everything, it imposes rigorous discipline through the adherence to demanding management system requirements that improve our performance and streamline our operations.

Experience with MSECB

We really appreciated the experience with MSECB. They were reactive, fast, and efficient.

The MSECB auditor was an outstanding professional with courtesy, bringing high value to our management system. He showed a great deal of experience and understanding of our business.
